Happy New Year to all of our clients!
Let's hope that 2007 sees us all enjoying increased business levels and further consolidation of our positions within the marketplace.

Larger Floors

The larger floors with CSI 'Firewall' staircase enclosures referred to in our September 2006

Newsletter are complete and look very nice! As previously intimated, the 'Firewall' product is clean and very quick to install - it lends itself perfectly to staircase tower enclosures!

ISO 9001:2000

In an ongoing effort to increase CSI's attractiveness to both new and existing clients, we are currently developing a quality manual in line with ISO 9001: 2000 standards. We anticipate achieving this accreditation during the spring and at such time our working system/standards will be adopted and the main features published! We believe that once this system is introduced our clients will be in a position to place even more confidence in our abilities to get the job done in a thorough, professional and consistent manner.

Onwards and Upwards

As usual, we remain open for business - from existing and new clients! Our workforce is loyal and settled so we know what we can achieve. CSI welcome the chance to show new clients what we can do - as always, we are happy to see the enquiries and do not charge for quotes so what do you have to lose? Once again best wishes and good luck for the coming year - we look forward to providing a good product, great service and a first class experience to all!
